Political Scene

Democrats To Meet In San Mateo February 2nd To Choose "First Team"

The first convention to vote for candidates before a primary eiection in San Mateo county history will be held in the City of San mateo on Saturday, February 2, 1952, it was announced this week by convention officials.

The San Mateo Junior College auditorium will be the scene of the one day political event.

The convention will name candidates for the following four legislative offices to which San Mateo County is now entitled under the new redistricting plan: two state assemblymen, one state senator and one United States congressman.

Features

Among the many features of the convention will be the permission granted those who are interested in running for these offices to speak for a limited time to the assembled delegates prior to the actual nominations and voting. In the voting which will follow, if no one obtains a majority on the first ballot, the two highest in the first ballot will be voted on again in the second ballot.

"By setting up this convention with each of 544 precincts in the county having the right to nominate and vote through its delegation," said chairman Seagraves, "we will be presenting to voters in the primary election next year candidates who have been selected by all sections of the county in a truly democratic way."

In addition to the precinct delegates, voting privileges will also be granted to all county registered Democrats who are elected city, county or state officials or who are members of the county central committee, the ninth congressional district committee, the state central and executive committees and the national committee.

County religious officials of various faiths will be invited to pronounce the opening invocations and the closing benediction.

Citizens Meet To Choose GOP County Candidates

Same Group Aided In Nixon Election

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Republican campaign in San Mateo county as a meeting gets under way this evening, January 3, in the city hall at San Mateo and the 200 members of the Candidates Fact Finding Committee becomes organized and readied to select the best possible candidates for Congress, the State Senate and the two Assembly Districts.

In the proposed rules which are to be considered for adoption tonight it provides that:

"This committee be composed of Republicans who will interview Republicans desirous or willing to run for partisan offices in San Mateo county and to choose those best fitted to be elected, and thereafter to support them for Republican nominations in order that this district may present in 1952, candidates best qualified for those partisan offices."

Committee members will be

JACK FROST ROMPS IN DALY CITY

With promises of rain, there appeared to be an end today to a cold spell in which Jack Frost pushed the mercury down to 30 degrees here Tuesday evening.

This was the lowest reading of a year hardly two days old, and the coldest January 2 on record here.

Several streets were covered with a thick layer of frost, although police received no reports of ice.

Burglars Open '52 And Drug Store

Over $1,000 Taken From Crown Drug

Burglars opened the New Year here early Tuesday morning when they stole over $1,000 in watches and cameras from the Crown Drug Store, 355 South Mayfair, police reported today.

The theft was discovered at 6 p.m. by Sgt. Roy Beecher who was making a routine check of the Westlake Shopping area.

Entry was gained by smashing a lock on a side door. Police place the time of the burglary between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m.

In addition to rifling the camera and watch counter, the thieves left an open invitation for a federal investigation by breaking into the branch post office which recently opened in the store. An employee said the post office station was "turned upside down," but nothing of value was taken.

The thieves made no effort to open two cash registers, both of which contained money, nor the floor safe, police said.

This was the third, but only successful attempt to break into the drug store during the past two months, police reported.

TWO LOCAL MEN DONATE BLOOD

First donations of blood to the San Mateo County Blood Bank were given this week by a Colma and Daly City man respectively.

The two donors were: Thomas Dee of Colma; and Owen D. English of Daly City.

Those interested in donating blood are asked to contact the blood bank in San Mateo.

Becker Announces Candidacy For New Judicial District

Westlake Attorney To Seek Judgeship

Colma City Judge Charles Becker today formally announced his candidacy for the Municipal Court of San Mateo county, Northern Judicial District.

In making this announcement, Becker was the first candidate to officially throw his hat into the judgeship ring. Still to be heard from is Thomas Bocci, present justice of the peace for the First Township, who is rumored to be another strong contender for the position.

Also, City Attorney Frank Blum may be a candidate, but he indicated his position will not be announced until Bocci decides on a course of action.

Becker, a resident of the Westlake district of Daly City and a practicing attorney in both San Francisco and San Mateo counties, said he was making the campaign for the newly created court after "carefully considering the urgings of friends and civic leaders" that he run.

The new court was established by the legislature last year, and the board of supervisors divided the area it will cover into three districts so as to meet the population requirement of some 40,000 residents, from Milbrae to Daly City.

Active

The candidate, 35, is active in community and civic affairs on the North Peninsula. He is a leader in the Community Chest, education program, and PTA.

Becker said that his decision to campaign for the judgeship was not an easy one to make, "because election will certainly bring considerable personal financial sacrifice to me and my famiiy."

"However," he added, "I feel that I am qualified for the bench, and in view of the large number of civic, professional and business leaders in San Mateo County who also have confidence in my abilities to become a judge, I am willing to relinquish my successful law practice."

The job will pay $10,000 per year, and the tenure is six years. Private legal practice will not be allowed under the new setup.

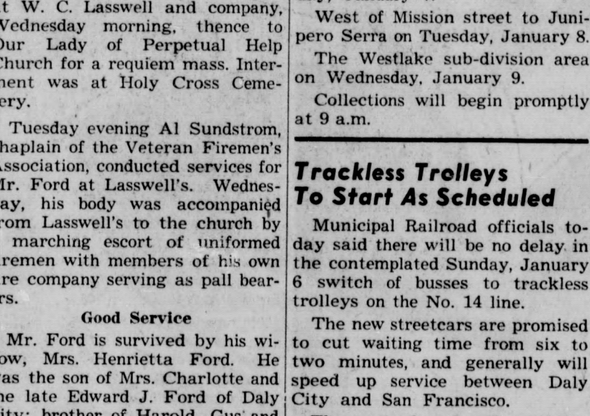
The present justices of the peace, whose offices will be abolished with the advent of the new court, are permitted to practice law.

Step Forward

Becker hailed the new law forbiding private practice as a "great forward step in our judicial system."

"The people have demanded a change of our type of courts in San Mateo County," Becker declared, "and I am pleased that the law will require the judge of the Municipal Court to spend his full time in his judicial duties."

Becker lives at 5 Fieldcrest, Westlake, Daly City, with his wife, Norma, and two sons, Douglas Howard and Geoffrey Daniel Becker, 4 and 2 respectively.



Freddy Bender, young polio victim from Esparto, Calif., who has been helped by March of Dimes funds, happily receives official pen used by Governor Earl Warren to sign state proclamation which urged all citizens to contribute "their dimes and their dollars" in the coming January March of Dimes campaign.

Firehouse Draped In Black Today For G. A. Ford

Veteran Fireman Dies In S. F. Sunday

George A. Ford, veteran Daly City fireman, died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital following several months of ill health.

Funeral services were conducted at W. C. Lasswell and company, Wednesday morning, thence to Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church for a requiem mass. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery.

Tuesday evening Al Sundstrom, chaplain of the Veteran Firemen's Association, conducted services for Mr. Ford at Lasswell's. Wednesday, his body was accompanied from Lasswell's to the church by a marching escort of uniformed firemen with members of his own fire company serving as pall bearers.

Good Service

Mr. Ford is survived by his widow, Mrs. Henrietta Ford. He was the son of Mrs. Charlotte and the late Edward J. Ford of Daly City; brother of Harold, Gus and the late Eddie Ford; uncle of Barbara Parodi and Richard La Bue.

He served as a Daly City fireman for approximately 20 years, being an active member of Company No. 2 at the time of his death.

In his memory Company No. 2's fire house at 499 Santa Barbara avenue, has been draped since Sunday and will remain so for a week.

Mr. Ford was also a member of the Veteran Firemen's Association of Daly City, the Firemen's Widows and Orphans Association of this city, the Utopia Parlor No. 27, Native Sons of the Golden West, the Independent Order of Foresters No. 10 and the Teamsters Union, local 85 of the A. F. of L.

SIGNAL POLE DOWN FOR THE COUNT AGAIN

Battered and beaten, the signal pole at Wellington and Mission Street was in service again today after being bowled over for the second time within a week Tuesday afternoon.

Cited with striking a signal is W. N. Burnham, 17, a sailor from San Francisco.

Sgt. Roy Beecher reports the entire new signal system was out of order for 20 minutes after Burnham's car alegedly knocked over the pole. Last Saturday, December 22, Eric Moor, 50 Peoria Street, opened the pole bowling. Both men will appear in police court Wednesday, January 9, to answer the charges.

CHRISTMAS TREE COLLECTION SET

Discarded Christmas trees will be collected by the Daly City Fire Department next Monday, Tuesday and Wesdnesday, Chief Elmer Kennedy reminded the public today.

Residents are requested to stack the dead trees at the nearest street corner . . . not in front of their homes.

Following is the pickup schedule:

East of Mission street on Monday, January 7.

West of Mission street to Junipero Serra on Tuesday, January 8.

The Westlake sub-division area on Wednesday, January 9.

Collections will begin promptly at 9 a.m.

Trackless Trolleys To Start As Scheduled

Municipal Railroad officials today said there will be no delay in the contemplated Sunday, January 6 switch of busses to trackless trolleys on the No. 14 line.

The new streetcars are promised to cut waiting time from six to two minutes, and generally will speed up service between Daly City and San Francisco.

The route for the No. 14 line will remain the same, with express busses taking the heavy loads during the peak hours.

Is It "Smogville" Or "Smellville.."

Daly City turned into "smogville," or at least "smellville" for a short time this afternoon, January 3.

Prevailing winds carried a heavy blanket of industrial smoke, and corresponding odors, over the majority of local homes. Low hanging clouds contained the transparent smoke, but the weatherman reported the ceiling would lift later today, carrying off the offending smell.

Unofficial representatives for the chamber of commerce were quick to point out this is a rare occurrence, happening no more than once or twice a year.

Auto Collision Proves Fatal For Raymond F. Pabst

Accident Occurred Friday Near Indio

Injuries sustained in a highway automobile collision caused the death of Raymond F. Pabst, 44, of 132 Oliver street, Saturday. The accident occurred Friday night on U. S. Highway No. 99, near Indio in Southern California.

Funeral services are scheduled for Thursday afternoon at one o'clock from the W. C. Lasswell company, with interment following at Cypress Lawn. The services are under the auspices of Occidental Lodge, No. 22, F. & A. M., of which he was a member.

Mr. Pabst was the husband of Mrs. Muriele Pabst; the son of William and Ollie Pabst of Redwood City; the brother of Mrs. Florence Drew of Salinas; Mrs. Lillian Negherbon of Redwood City and William Pabst, Jr., of China Lake, California.

Mr. Pabst, an employee of the Railway Express Agency company for many years, was known throughout California for his active participation in folk and square dance clubs.

He formed the Daly City Calico Clickers, local folk and square dance club, and both he and his wife were also members of the Daly City Folk Dancers, the Tyroleans of San Bruno, the Millbrae Highlanders, and the Square Cutters of San Francisco.

Festival

The annual Labor Day folk dance festivals held the past two years in this city were due to the efforts and planning of Mr. Pabst, under the sponsorship of the Daly City Recreation department. Also for the past four years he has served as co-instructor in folk dancing with his wife who is employed as an instructor in these fields by the local Recreation Department.

He was the delegate from this area to the monthly meetings of the California Folk Dance Federation.

Together with Mrs. Pabst, who serves as secretary for the San Francisco area council of Folk Dance clubs, he drew up a set of folk dance by-laws which is considered to be one of the best which the movement has to date.

Co-Master

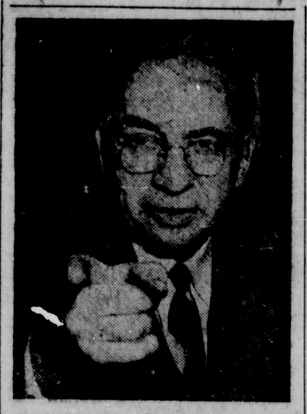
Mr. Pabst was co-master of ceremonies at the big Federation sponsored festival hosted by the combined Folk Dance groups of San Francisco last March which was held at the National Guard Armory. Upon this occasion, approximately 5,000 dancers were directed by him.

The Girl Scout Camp Mattrup at Colma owes some of its construction to Mr. Pabst. He was instrumental in obtaining water and sanitary facilities for this place. Many of the improvements at this camp are the personal labor of Mr. Pabst.

Last year, Mr. and Mrs. Pabst celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary.

Traffic Toll Here Light

San Francisco Couple Narrowly Escape Death In Head-on Collision Tuesday



SPIRITUAL . . . Pointing an admonishing finger is Edward Bodin, candidate for president of the U.S. on the Spiritual party ticket.

A head on collision in which a San Francisco couple were nearly killed was the most serious accident of a relatively quiet New Year's in Daly City, police reported today.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Wellington and Mission Streets at 2:50 a.m. Tuesday when Joseph J. Heaney, 29, 283 Wyandotte Street met a car driven by Matthew A. Bluth, 29, of San Francisco.

Although both cars were nearly demolished, only a couple riding in Bluth's car were injured.

Treated at Junipero Serra hospital for cuts and a head injury was Alex Pappas, 30. His wife, Mrs. Fern Pappas, 25, escaped with slight bruises. Pappas was recovering from a "heavy loss of blood," and was not released until Wednesday evening, hospital authorities said.

Charged

Police charged Heaney, a Daly City plumber, with drunk driving and being drunk in and around an automobile. He was released on $250 bail, and will appear in police court Wednesday January 9 at 2 a.m. to answer the charges.

Other accidents reported here over the New Year's holiday included:

Paul Matison, 20, 131 Peoria, allegedly ran his car into the home of Al Permisano, 263 Irvington at 2:40 a.m., Tuesday. The Daly City merchant marine sailor was charged with being drunk in and around an automobile and was released on $100 bail. He will appear in police court Wednesday, January 9.

Car Meets Home

Mattison's car struck the side of the Parmisano home, resulting in a limited amount of damage to the house, but smashing the front end of the sailor's machine.

At 1:45 a.m., Tuesday, Willie Bryant, 49, box 562 Colma, invited trouble by allegedly running his car into a parked police car at the corner of School Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard. Police report neither Bryant nor Officer Conci, who was behind the wheel of the police car, was injured.

Motor Vehicle Branch Opens

Lomita Park Office To Serve Daly City

A branch of the state Motor Vehicles Department opened in Lomita Park this week to service local residents, State Senator Richard J. Dolwig announced today.

The branch office, which opened Wednesday, is located at 1001 El Camino Real, Lomita Park.

"Lomita Park is one-half mile south of San Bruno and it is felt to be a good location, in that it is readily accessible to residents of Daly City," Dolwig said.

"It should attract business from the ofifce at South Van Ness Avenue . . . and render a better service to the communities in the North County."

Dolwig said the arrangement had been made possible "through men in cooperation with Senator Tom Maloney and the Department of Motor Vehicles."

S. S. F. Driver Drops Market Street Pole

Two South San Francisco residents suffered minor injuries Tuesday evening when a car they were riding in bowled over a PG&E pole at 200 E. Market street, police reported today.

Injured were: Tom Brogan, 42, and Mrs. Clara Jeneny, 42, both of South City. They were treated for minor cuts and bruises at the Junipero Serra hospital.

Driver of the car, Joe Marello, 68, South San Francisco, said he lost control of his machine when "blinded by a street light." He escaped without injury.

Two Important Dates Emphasized

Broadmoor residents this week were reminded of two important dates . . . at least to members of Cub Pack No. 84.

Sunday, January 6, the cub scouts will hold their annual Christmas tree burning at the Garden Village school grounds at 7:30 p.m. Residents are requested to save their old trees, and the Scouts will pick them up this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Saturday, January 5, the cubs will launch their monthly paper drive. The collection to obtain funds for the organization is held the first Saturday of every month. Home owners are asked to pile their old papers on the back porches of their homes.

Civilian Defense

$5,600 Too Little For Squad

With $400 in the city budget alloted for civilian defense, there was some doubt today that local officials will sanction a $6,000 civilian defense squad at a joint cities-county planning board meet tonight.

Dan Andersen, city administrator, is to represent Daly City at the monthly conference.

Purpose of the meeting is to set up the emergency squads throughout the county, 15 in all. In time of disaster they would serve as a spear head for treating the wounded, preserving order, and be a mobile unit for general emergency work.

Cost

The $6,000 is the approximate cost of outfitting the organization. Members would be volunteers, and would receive no monetary compensation.

The meeting will determine the attitude of the large county cities to setting up such squads. It would be necessary to work as a unified team rather than individually, and, therefore, the need for joint county city action.

Auxiliary

Andersen said he had no authority to either reject or approve Daly City's part in the scheme. However, he indicated the $400 budget would put a curb on any such plans.

"It should be remembered we do have an auxiliary police group in training," Andersen added.

The auxiliary police force is using present city equipment, and would fulfill a good many of the duties prescribed for the proposed emergency flying squads, Andersen said.

MEANEST THIEF ROBBED THEM . . . Kids of child care center, Long Beach, Calif., had saved their pennies for a big party, but somebody broke into the school and took their $25. Here they view lone two-bits.

County Guidebook Now Available

Geological Guide Of Interest To All

A new geologic guidebook—second in the Division of Mines guidebook series—entitled, "Geologic Guidebook of the San Francisco Bay Counties: History, Landscape, Geology, Fossils, Minerals, Industry, and Route to Travel," is now available, Olaf P. Jenkins, Chief of the Division announced today.

The book, issued as Bulletin 154, has been eagerly awaited by those who knew of the plans for its preparation, especially those who so enthusiastically received and remembered the first guidebook in the series, "Geologic Guidebook Along Highway 49." The new guidebook, like the first, deals with a region that contributed greatly to the color and character of the West: not only to its tales and legends, its swashbuckling history, and its fabulous wealth, but also to its steady economic and cultural evolution to its present position as one of the nations' important centers.

Features

The natural features and factors that helped the area attain its eminence are the subjects of the guidebook. Of the twelve counties treated, nine (Alemeda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano and Sonoma) border on the shores of the San Francisco Bay, and three (Sacramento, San Joaquin, Yolo) are in the delta region of the San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers, yet all twelve unite to form one large unit, naturally, historically, and industrially.

Although a diversity of scenic beauty is found in the twelve counties, from the rugged relief of mountain ranges to the wide expanse of ocean waters, or the flat monotony of fertile delta lands, the story of each is bound to the other, and the complete story of the landscape not only tells the story of the background against which the human history of the San Francisco Bay Area occurred, but also shows the natural reasons for the course of that history.

Enjoyment

The perceptive reader and the earnest student will derive much enjoyment from the 32 authoritative articles that comprise the book. Each was prepared by a technical expert, yet they are written in an easily understood manner, and are grouped into seven logical parts, including, "Historical Background," "History of the Landscape," "Geologic History," "Prehistoric Life," "Mineral Industry," "Water," and "Places To Go and Routes To Travel."

The causual reader, too, will find the 28 authors have prepared for him a tale in words and pictures—nearly 300 illustrate the text—that will find the 28 authors have prepared for him a tale in words and pictures—nearly 300 illustrate the text—that will stir his interest and enthusiasm. Because the 392 text pages cannot present an exhaustive study of the natural history and resources, nearly all of the articles append a bibliography that will serve as a useful beginning for further research.

Those who like to roam will find Part VII, "Places to go and routes to travel," an invaluable collection of motorlogs for short trips in the San Francisco Bay Area; this section, together with the seven colored strip maps of the 12 counties showing the geology and important roads form a handbook that will enhance their driving pleasure. Because it is necessary to introduce in the text some technical words unfamiliar to laymen, a convenient glossary has been included.

The book, containing 392 pages, and more than 300 photographs, drawings, and maps, is bound in sturdy tan cloth, matching in color the binding of the first guidebook in the series.

Bulletin 154, the San Francisco Bay Area Guidebook, may be purchased from the Division of Mines, Ferry Building, San Francisco 11, California.

Anaheim, German for "Anna's Home," is reported by the National Automobile Club to have been founded by a group of German colonists in 1857.

Victoria is the smallest of the six continental Australian states.

Navy Forming Local Company

Volunteers Now Being Accepted

Men between the ages of 17-31 are now being volunteered to enlist in the U. S. Navy and be a member of a "San Francisco Bay Area" company. As a member of this company you will be enlisted in the Navy together and will stay together through training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, California, and will be trained by a man from the Bay Area.

As a company you will be able to compete with other companies from other parts of the United States in sports, shooting, marching and other competitive drills. This is your chance to show just how good the men from the Bay Area are.

A company is made up of eighty men. The first eighty men making application and meeting basic requirements will form the company. Basic qualifications are: AGE: 17-31 years; Be physically and mentally normal; HEIGHT: 60 inches minimum height, 78 inches maximum; WEIGHT: In porportion to height; EYES: Normal or correctible to normal with glasses.

You may make application for joining this company by seeing Chief Tom Spindle in Room 12, U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Federal Office Bldg., Civic Center, San Francisco, California.

Swearing in date for this company has been tentatively set for January 28, 1952.

Prevent Corrosion

To prevent rapid corrosion of the underside of your car, an approved underbody coating should be applied while the car is new, suggests the California State Automobile Association. Properly applied undercoating helps to prevent corrosion and also tends to deaden annoying metallic sounds that originate underneath the car.

Cereghino Signed With Yankees For $74,000

Figures Revealed In Trust Fund

The Daly City boy with gold in his pitching arm received $74,000, spread over a six-year period, when he signed up with the New York Yankees last year.

Ed Cereghino, 18, former mound man for Jefferson high school, is that golden armed lad.

The actual figures of the contract were revealed this week when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cereghino set up a trust fund. They filed the contract figures in San Mateo superior court.

Terms of the contract stipulate that $20,000 will be collected the first year, and $10,000 for each of the succeeding five years. The remaining $4,000 is to be paid as part of his salary for the first two years.

As trustees, his parents will put away $7,500 a year until Ed reaches 21.

SMJC Cagers Down San Quentin

Just back from an invasion of San Quentin, the San Mateo Junior College basketball team is now playing in the state invitational tourney at Modesto.

Next week the Mateans open their conference season by playing at Stockton January 9, and at home, Friday, against Contra Costa West JC.

The Mateans defeated the San Quentin five by a score of 64-59. An unusual feature of the game was that the prisoners who attended the game as spectators cheered for San Mateo and not for their "home" team.

Snowtime Is Playtime In Laurentians of Canada

A Laurentian ski trial.

Laurentian snow scenery.

Skiiers like deep, powder snow.

THE Laurentian Mountain winter sports area of Quebec Province, just north of Montreal, which is known the world over for its deep powder snow, its variety of open slopes, its network of more than 1,000 miles of ski trails and for its dependable skiing conditions, again expects to play host to thousands of American winter sports visitors this season. Already, snow covers the hills and valleys of the Laurentians, and skiiers are pouring into the quaint little villages which offer a scale of accommodations designed to meet the requirements of the most discriminating visitor.

In Morin Heights, Christieville, Lac Guindon, Montfort, Rawdon, Shawbridge, St. Sauveur-des-Monts (home of famous Ski Hill 70) and other places which are easily reached on the regular and special Canadian National Railways' ski trains from Montreal. Local livewire committees, have canvassed the housing situation, prepared estimates of guest capacity, plotted ski trails, slopes, jumps and even ski tows. In addition they have gone over each individual approved hostelry, whether it be hotel, inn, lodge or farm house, and their records show just how far the particular establishment is from the station; the transfer charges per person; number of rooms with running water and bath. And, of extreme importance, they can tell you in each of the towns mentioned above just how each approved stopping place is heated, whether it be by oil, coal or just an old-fashioned pot-bellied stove.

Citizens Meet To Choose GOP County Candidates

called on to abide by the majority vote on candidates and on all questions. Candidates will be invited to appear before the committee and submit to questioning.

Highlight of this evening's meeting is expected to be a talk by Roy Day of Pomona, orginator of the plan for selecting a Congressman when Richard Nixon in 1946, with no public office experience, won the committee's endorsement in the 12th District and was subsequently elected. Nixon today is United States Senator.

The meeting tonight is to be opened with E. L. Richardson of San Mateo presiding. A nominating committee including M. R. Hosmer of San Carlos, George Felty of Milbrae, Floyd Granger of Redwood City, Robert Thompson of Burlingame and Mrs. Louise Kutsche of Atherton will submit a list of candidates to continue conducting the committee's deliberations and will include a president, secretary and two vice-presidents. The veeps will preside when matters affecting the two Assembly districts within the county are under consideration.

Should any member of the committee present himself as a candidate for any partisan office deliberated on by the committee, he will first have to resign as a member of the committee, according to proposed rules.

A two-thirds rule will probably be adopted on candidate's nomination and selection, and those submitting to interviews are expected third majority vote.

While the names of a number of men have been mentioned as possible candidates for these partisan offices and some have even been quoted in the press as intending to seek the nomination, none have officially notified the Fact Finding Committee on this intent.

"Our job, individually and collectively, will be to give fair consideration to all those seeking endorsement, and not to steer candidates to our meetings who might be presumptive of our favor," cautioned acting chairman Richardson today.

World Affairs Class Slated

Well-Known Lecturer To Head Meetings

Mr. Harland Frederick, the well-known lecturer and news analyst is conducting a class in world affairs and discussion at the Galileo high school (Van Ness avenue and Francisco street) on Monday evening from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. beginning January 7, 1952.

Discussion and analysis of world affairs will be directed toward the aim of audience discussion and the ability of the individual to expres his own opinions. The art of conversation, vocabulary building, and proper expression of todays confusing terms and conditions is emphasized. Particular attention is paid to individual instruction and the art of the student using daily information in his personal conversation.

Men and women anxious to have a more complete knowledge of the art of conversation as well as guided analysis of world affairs are invited to join the class. Mr. Frederick's unusual ability in the art of summary and understanding background is explained in the class.

The course is a public service of the San Francisco Unified School District and is, therefore, tuition-free. For further information, please telephone WAlnut 1-2707.

DR. OTIS TO MOVE TO NEW LOCATION

Within the next ten days, Dr. R. Lee Otis, optometrist, will move into his new office at 6272 Mission street.

These premises are now being completely remodelled, both inside and out, and this, together with Dr. Otis' new modern equipment, will make his office one of the most efficient and up-to-date in the entire Bay Area.

Dr. Otis has been established in Daly City for about two and one-half years, coming here with a background of some twenty-eight years of practice in San Francisco.

Defective Fuel Pump

The automobile fuel pump will gradually wear out and become less efficient with use, according to the California State Automobile Association. Worn pull rods and linkage or a punctured diaphragm are some of its most common ailments.

Little Theatre Tryouts Open

Peninsula Little Theatre shifts into high gear after the Christmas holidays with tryouts for "Arabian Nights," which the Little Theatre is presenting in March (International Theatre Month) for the newly organized San Mateo Children's Theatre Association.

Tryouts will be held under the direction of Robert Brauns in the San Mateo Junior College Auditorium, 124 Baldwin Ave., San Mateo, on Wednesday and Thursday nights, January 2 and 3, at 8 o'clock. There will be numerous roles for all ages, sizes and sexes.

GOP WOMEN MEET IN S. F. JANUARY 14

As a prelude to the 1952 presidential campaign Republican women leaders from all parts of the country will meet in San Francisco January 14-15.

Announcement of the meeting came from the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, headed by Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington, wife of the delegate from Hawaii to the House of Representatives. Jean Fuller of Encino is national secretary. She also is State president of the California Council of Republican Women.

A LOOK AT THE YEAR AHEAD

We see where the state highway department heeded our editorial of last week, and is now busy retouching the white crossing lines at the various signals on Mission Street.

This is encouraging, and we hope prophetic of the New Year when state and city officials will take prompt action to cure a wrong rather than shuffle it around for week after week, or month after month.

Officialdom seems to wallow in time, with few notable exceptions, and puts off what can be done today until fully seasoned with red tape tomorrow. However, with perseverance it may be possible to overcome the natural barriers to improvement.

Hoping against the city budget, here are a few of the improvements we would like to see in 1952:

1. Completion of the Community Center building. This, we believe, will be accomplished not by private loans, but rather by another bond election in which the people are made aware of the full need of finishing the beautiful and useful building.

2. Completion of the parks program. This started two years ago, and the program as outlined in the $101,000 bond issue of 1949 should be wound up by the end of this year. The only trouble is, more parks, or at least one park will be needed in Westlake.

3. We hope the civilian defense program, which to-date has never passed the planning stage, is put into effect. This will depend not so much on city officials, as on a more cooperative public willing to face its responsibilities to itself.

4. A fire house for Westlake. This is almost near the top of the list, for if it is not built shortly there is danger the fire insurance rate for each and every homeowner will be jumped. No matter how efficient the fire department, they can not overcome the disadvantage of distance and traffic from the central firehouse to the ever growing Westlake area.

5. And to name a few other less pressing, but nevertheless necessary improvements: shelters at the key bus stops; signals on Hillside Boulevard and in front of Jefferson High school; and a working merchants association.

And finally, we hope the public will make these wants known by taking more interest in their city government. This interest is best shown by attendance at city council meetings which, despite a discouraging year, we are sure one day will reach the point where more than a half dozen taxpayers will put in an appearance at the Monday night meetings.

Generally speaking, the city council has done a good job with a limited budget and a discouraging lack of public appreciation or interest. We hope they will continue the good work for 1952.

GROWING PAINS

Daly City will soon be bursting at the seams, at least if the present population trends continue.

This is the indication to be found in a recent report of the National Industrial Conference Board of New York. The report notes the suburb area around San Francisco more than doubled in the past decade. A good part of this increase was reflected in the Daly City census figures which showed a 25 per cent increase in 10 years.

With the development of Westlake going into high gear, coupled with a migration from the city to the suburbs, Daly City can look for even a greater population increase in the next decade.

This trend, as the survey points out, has two sides...one good, one bad. On the credit and sunshine side is the fact decentralization is creating more local shopping facilities, more small independent stores, and an ever increasing market for the goods those businesses offer.

In the headache department will be found scores of new problems in city financing. A growing community requires more services such as police protection, hospitals, churches, libraries and schools. It is quite a trick for city officials to supply these demands, and at the same time keep the taxpayers happy without upping taxes. The scope of this official headache only can be fully appreciated by a man with 50 cents in his pocket and a crying need for a new automobile.

Daly City is growing, and it is going to take some steady thinking to assure this growth does not destroy the city by financial hemmorhages. This might be something to remember this spring, when the city council elections roll around.

THE PRICE OF BLOOD

To help assure an adequate supply of blood for the war wounded, some professional football promoters have given away free tickets for each pint donated—and last week an Alameda butcher, Joe Scalise, announced a day on which he would give away a free steak to every donor in his town.

Certainly such patriotic generosity on the part of the sportsmen and the butcher is wonderful.

But there is something shameful in the very fact that blood need be bought for boys who need it only because they have sacrificed their own so freely and so nobly.

GREETINGS FROM SACRAMENTO

If you own a car, you are one of the five million Californians who will receive a card in the mail from Sacramento this week. It won't be a holiday greeting; it will be a notice you must pungle up for your 1952 auto license tab—but it does seem considerate of the Department of Motor Vehicles to choose this holiday week for the mailing, when most everybody is happy and doesn't mind too much getting a reminder of something that has to be paid.

The important thing, states A. H. Henderson, department director, is "that these cards should not be confused with the bulk of the holiday mail." Important, too, whether or not the card is lost in the shuffle, is noting that the last day for license payment is February 4. After that, there'll be a delinquency penalty.

Pay Tribute To Blood Bank

Instead of sending floral offerings to the funeral of the late Percy A. Shaw, county civic leader, 72 persons contributed from $2 to $100 for a total of $958 to the building fund of the San Mateo County Blood Bank, it was disclosed by the bank today.

Mr. Shaw was president of the South San Francisco Land Company and a resident of San Mateo. He was one of the ardent workers in behalf of getting the county blood bank started and in aiding its upward career.

In his last illness Mr. Shaw had to undergo transfusions and blood was furnished for these by the county bank. Knowing of his long interest in the bank, his friends now have made it possible for his good work to be continued in memoriam, through their contributions to the building fund, it was said by Mrs. Paul Hanzlik, blood bank executive secretary.

Recruits Allowed To Choose Service

A Department of Defense policy which allows many draft eligible men to enlist in the service of their choice has been extended until March 31 according to word received today by M/Sgt. George C. Casey, Commander of Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, 2865 Mission street.

The policy, permitting the enlistment of men who are waiting for their final induction notice has been extended several times since its initiation last summer. Prior to the present extension, the policy remained in effect until midnight New Year's eve.

"Many eligible men presently awaiting induction," M/Sgt. Casey explained, "will want to enlist in the Army or Air Force now that the holiday season is over, and this new extension authorizes them to do so."

M/Sgt. Casey invites all persons interested in the Army or Air Force to visit him at the Recruiting Station at 2865 Mission street.

Christmas In Retrospect

Local Chapter Of St. Vincent de Paul Thanks Those Who Brought Yuletide Joy

To many of our citizens the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church is well known.

This self effacing group of Catholic laymen labor quietly in our midst day in and day out giving generously of their time and means to assist their less fortunate neighbors regardless of race, color or creed.

For the protection of the dignity of those families whom they assist the rule of the Society requires that secrecy surround their work.

The season of Christmas, heralding as it does the birth of Him, the very found of that charity which serves the needs of neighbor, creates in men an urge to share their goods with their fellow men. And being dependent to a large extent upon the charity of others, the St. Vincent de Paul Society addressed a private appeal to some of these good people of Daly City to assist in bringing joy into the hearts of little children, the lonely and the forgotten at Christmas.

Response

The response was most generous. In order to publicly thank those who were responsible for making it possible to distribute food, clothes, toys and goodies to the value of $1,215.00 to 37 families including 53 adults and 111 children, the Society makes a slight deviation from its rule and publicly acknowledges its indebtedness to Chairman Elias Willie, Co-Chairman Peter Markovich and the following benefactors:

Edward Byrne, James E. Donahue, Napoleon Ennis, Francis E. Duffy, Lawrence Costello, John Muller, W. L. McClintock, M. Bertolucci, A. W. Gibbons, W. T. Kennedy, John P. Mongan, Dr. L. D. Mahen, A. Milano, Bert Laswell, Paul Selmi, Judge Wm. J. Sweeney, Anthony Parmisano, George Glass, Mrs. J. Holtz, Paul Marchi, Karl Kittler, L. B. McGeein, W. Degliantoni, H. H. Smith, A. Vireno. Marie Bishop, A. Peloquin, Edward Lane, Willia and Lillian E. O'Brien, James J. Crudo, John J. Fahey, Thomas B. Gallen, George Kirchubel, Elton McGraw, Peter Conci, Arnold Panella, A. Arnaudo, Frank Lombardi, Paul Gulrich, Tom Bocci, Jr., W. Lagomarsino, Vincent Merlo, Roy Thomson, George Lombard, Maurice Bogart, Joseph Powers, Thomas Callan, Henry Doelger, Mothers Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Mrs. M. Cubic, O'Briens Clothing and the Daly City Theatre.

The Society also desires to thank the Coffee Club Committee of the Telephone Employees of 333 Grant Avenue, San Francisco, who through their Chairman, Frank Bach, a Daly City resident, arranged for the distribution of 15 turkey baskets and all of the trimmings.

In addition to expressing their appreciation through the columns of The Record, the Society announces a Mass will be offered for the spiritual and temporal welfare of these benefactors at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Sunday, January 13. They will also share in the prayers and good works of the Society throughout the world.

THE YEARS AHEAD

State Employment, Individual Incomes And Trade Volume Expected To Increase

An anticipated sharp rise in actual outlays of defense mobilization funds already authorized is a factor which most observers expect will raise employment, individual incomes and the volume of trade in California during 1952, according to Adrien J. Falk, president of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Falk, who is also president of S. & W. Fine Foods Inc., said although these would reach levels somewhat higher than were experienced in 1951, he did not expect more than a moderate rise either in the general level of prices or in the physical volume, unless there is some drastic change in the war outlook.

Labor Surplus

"Since employment is now at the peak and there is virtually no labor surplus, employers will face a tight labor market in 1952."

"The coming year also calls for careful analysis of governmental services and expenditures in every direction to cut out all non-essentials and prevent duplication and waste. Taxes are approaching the breaking point not only for business, but the individual as well," he declared.

The State Chamber's Research Department reports that factory employment during 1951 averaged about 870,000 wage and salaried workers, or 14.9 per cent higher than the previous year. Largest gains were in the aircraft industry where employment was 61 per cent higher than last year, followed by machinery with a 35 per cent rise, electrical and electronics equipment, scientific instruments, primary metal industries, and fabricated metals. At the close of the year textiles, apparel, furniture, and automobile assembly were the only groups employing fewer workers than a year ago. Prime contract awards to California firms from June 1950 through September 1951 were $5,062,236,000 or 14.1 per cent of the national total. Employment in the aircraft, machinery, steel, and electrical equipment industries will continue to rise during the coming year.

Farm Income

"Cash farm income during 1951 was about $2,700,000,000 or 16 per cent above 1950. The outlook according to most forecasters is for no marked change in 1952," Falk said.

"Individual incomes during 1951 were close to $21,000,000,000 or 13.3 per cent above last year. Private forecasts for 1952 are in the range of $22,500,000,000 to $23,000,000,000 indicating that business economists do not expect more than a moderate further gain in payroll and other incomes before taxes."

County Hits Record High For Tax Load

Average Resident Paid $563 In 50-51

Record-high tax burden typified 1951 for the people of San Mateo county, with a tax bill estimated at $145,536,000 for 1950-51, California Taxpayers' association said today. Over-all per capita tax burden for the year averaged $563 for the people in the county.

A share of federal imposts estimated at $100,138,000, of state revenues estimated at $27,800,000, and a local government property tax levy countywide of $17,598,303, add up to the tax burden of at least $145,536,000 for fiscal 1951 for the people of the county.

The county's share of federal and state taxes are estimated on a population basis.

Property taxes are only one form of local imposts, the association said, pointing out that sales taxes and business licenses and taxes are also imposed, as are fines, fees, and forfeitures. The county figure includes levies for city, school district, and special district, as well as county purposes.

Statewide, the federal tax bill, including customs duties, reached $4,203,700,000—an all-time high. State taxes for fiscal 1951 are estimated at $1,167,000,000. Local property tax levies throughout the State were $798,241,231. Total burden on Californians reached $6,168,941,000, an average $568 per capita.

"Any cut in taxes means dollars left in the pockets of the people," the association said.

County Offers Variety Of Jobs

Civil Service Exams Slated

A variety of jobs soon will be open in various San Mateo county offices, it was announced today.

Civil service commission officials said a number of examinations will be held in the near future to fill these positions.

Following is a partial list of the examinations, salary ranges, date of examination, and closing date for filing:

Administrative assistant, $332 to $415, examination February 16, closing date for filing, February 4; junior engineer aide, $252 to $314, examination March 15, closing date March 3; fire station supervisor, $281 to $351 examination March 15, closing date March 3; assistant highway engineer, $392 to $491, examination March 15, closing date March 3; outpatient physician, $614 to $767, examination January 22, closing date January 16.

Public assistance worker, $266 to $332, examination March 29, closing date March 17; clerk $252 to $314, examination February 9, closing date January 28; head nurse, $281 to $351, examination February 16, closing date February 4; fire equipment operator, $266 to $332, examination to be announced, closing date, open; fire fighter, $232 to $297, to be announced, closing date, open; deputy poundmaster, $238 to $297; examination March 1, closing date February 18.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

Our car blew up and died this week. There was no fading, or even passing away; she just upped and kicked the bucket. To be more exact, she threw a rod.

This came as no surprise, for the model that was a car in 1941, and pile of noble junk in 1952, just didn't have it in her to chug through a new year.

We do not know if an obituary has ever been written for an automobile, but we hereby wish to mend that possible oversight. In no other way may we pay final tribute to "Lady Macbeth," a machine with a six cylinder heart, an undying love for raucous conversation, a battered and beaten face, and an easy manner which never allowed speed, even when urged by the gas pedal.

It is hard to believe a piece of machinery has a soul, but we are convinced our Lady was an exception. She was as alive to us as any woman who has seen enough of the world to convince her "there is no trusting men." We would like to believe we overcame this cynical view, but only after several months of patiently nursing her through sick spells which foresaw her eventual death this week.

Boring

Allegories are boring, so we refrain from pointing out any more of the elements in Lady Macbeth which might lead us to believe in her bewitching, human self. And then we may be insulting her departed and worn bearing by such an odious comparison.

Lady Macbeth came to us through a classified ad, just two columns removed from the love lorn column. The marriage was consumated when we plopped down a trifling sum, backed her out of a foreign driveway, and two days later gave her face an uplift by gently ramming into the back of another machine. This was followed by four flat tires, a discouraged spark plug, an oil filter that was done filtering and, finally, a door handle that just grew tired and fell off. It might have helped had we given the Lady a bath, but after one try in which she came forth looking no better than a dirty 10 year old boy left to remove the grime from behind his ears.

Where once she had roared down the highways, she now hobbled, often finding it necessary to shift into lower gear to regain her wind. Her single vice was a drunken desire for oil, and it is somehow fitting that with her dying chug she drained the crank case dry. She went out intoxicated with the black stuff.

True Love

And yet, we loved her like a sailor loves a rusty hulk that may be one plate and a swarm of rats from sinking. That is why we are now faced with the dilemma as to where to bury her dead and unlovely frame. She was such a grand Lady, tart at times though she may have been, that we hesitate to consign her to the bone yard. If would be more fitting to set a match to her ruptured gas tank, and like the proud Vikings, wish her soul to junk yard heaven with fire and flame. However, authorities, unimaginative to the extreme, take a dim view of such proceedings.

We think we will take her home, shove her into the back yard and next year plant tomatoes in her front seat, cabbages in the back, and a row of azaleas over the motor that once powered her noble being.

POLITICS

Republicans Organize County Board To Screen Candidates For '52

Preliminary steps are to be taken on Thursday evening, January 3, to organize the Republican Candidates Fact Finding Committee in San Mateo County for the purpose of studying qualifications of candidates for congressional and legislative seats.

The group may even seek candidates in order to attain the highest standard of representation for the people, men who will make honest efforts to find solutions to the governmental problems facing both the state and the nation.

The meeting Thursday evening at the city hall in San Mateo will be presided over by E. L. Richardson of San Mateo, acting chairman. The nominating committee which is expected to submit a report, includes Merritt R. Hosmer of San Carlos, George Felty of Millbrae, Floyd Granger of Redwood City. Robert Thompson of Burlingame and Mrs. Louise Kutsche of Atherton. There are two hundred members from all parts of the county on the committee roster.

Pattern

Pattern for the organization is to be laid before the group by Roy O. Day of Pomona, Key man in the group of similar size which sought out candidates for the 12th Congressional District at Los Angeles, prevailing upon Richard M. Nixon to be a candidate in 1946, and Patrick Hillings in 1950 when Nixon was elected to the United States Senate. With the committee's endorsement and support at these times, both candidates were elected, Nixon as Congressman breaking the Hiss-Chambers espionage case, and Hillings as Congressman spearheading the Sythe investigation at San Francisco.

The organization in San Mateo County will elect a general chairman, two vice-chairmen and a secretary. Following installation, a sergeant-at-arms and a parliamentarian will be appointed by the chairman.

Preside

The vice-chairmen are to be chosen from the north and the south portions of the county and will preside when the candidates for these two Assembly districts are under consideration. Both the Congressional and the State Senate districts embrace the county at large. There are two Assembly districts.

The committee, following its organization next Thursday, is to meet weekly until candidates are approved for endorsement.

Bank of America Resources Now Exceed $7 Billion

Only Non-Government Bank To Make Such Gain

Improving its position, achieved last mid-year, as the only non-government bank ever to exceed $7 billion in resources, Bank of America was found at the end of 1951 again standing at new high marks in terms of total resources, deposits, loans and capital funds.

According to the annual statement of condition just released, the total resources of Bank of America N. T. & S. A. and its wholly-owned subsidiary the Bank of America-New York (International) stood at $7,617,260,104 on December 31, 1951. A year ago, Bank of America N. T. & S. A. resources were $6,863,358,213.

Large Gain

Particularly notable was the gain in the bank's deposits, which totalled $6,815,866,795, or $624,160,924 more than at the previous year end. Of this increase $386,030.764 is accounted for by steady gains in savings deposits throughout the year.

Loans of Bank of America outstanding at the year's close totalled $3,632,685,349, compared with $3,256,953,558 the year before. President L. M. Giannini disclosed that more than 2,400,000 loans were made throughout 1951, adding up to $5,608,458,000, serving to strengthen the state's economy and contribute to production for the national defense program.

Investments in securities at the year end stood at $2,439,510,644, compared with $2,243,415,017 at the end of 1950, an increase of $196,095,627.

Total Funds

Total capital funds rose to $412,385.858, including $12,474,582 added from retained 1951 earnings. In addition to these capital funds, $46,608,383 was held in reserve for possible loan losses. Surplus has been increased this year by $9,000,000 transferred from undivided profits.

After payment of expenses and provision for taxes, there remained $60,874,581 as net current operating earnings for 1951, which compares with $56,802,331 for 1950. Transfer of $10,000,000 to reserve for possible loan losses left $50,874.581 as net profits for 1951, equivalent to $2.12 per share on 24,000,000 shares outstanding, in comparison with $51,802,331 for 1950, or $2.16 per share adjusted to the same number of shares, after transfer of $5,000,000 to reserve for possible loan losses.

President Giannini observed it was significant to note that maximum net profit of $52,128,200 was earned in 1949, when taxes were $28,165,000 compared with 1951 taxes of $43,592,000. Interest paid on savings in 1951 totalled about $47,600,000 or $14,800,000 more than in 1949.

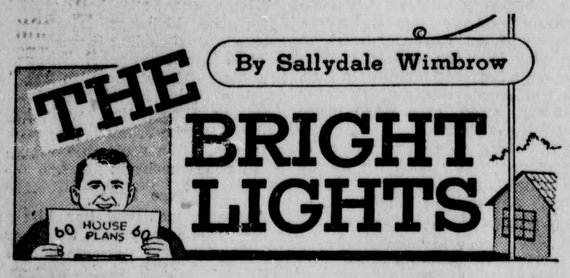
Cub Scouts Receive Awards At Joint Yuletide Party

At a joint Christmas party of Pack No. 84 of the Cub Scouts and Troop No. 84 of the Boy Scouts of Broadmoor, held December 21 at the Colma Community Center, awards were presented to members of the younger group.

Following is the list of awards: bobcat pin to Raymond Monks; wolf badge to Bob Goodwin, Larry Meikle, "J. E." Johnson, Kenneth Magoon; bear badge to John Avanzino, Gary Meikle, David Deininger.

Arrow points to Arthur Shanoan, David Broudy; webelos awards, Barry Beinner, Donald Branstetter; one year service pin, John Avanzino, Tim Buckley, David Drotar, Don Harris, David Broudy; two year service pin, Scott Parker, Jed Cyr, Don Branstetter, Howard McKee, Bill Kreuger, Mrs. Adelaide Mattison.

A Christmas program of skits and musical selections was presented by members of the Boy Scout troop. The older group also exchanged yuletide gifts while the cub pack was gifted with a year's subscription to Boy's Life Magazine.



"OH BOY!" said Mr. Timothy Hodges. "Oh Boy! I'm gonna get some chickens and maybe even a cow."

"A cow" said his wife "would scare me to death the first time it lowed in the middle of the night."

"And there's a perfect spot for a garden out back," he was deep in his own thoughts. "Do you suppose we could raise watermelons? I love watermelon."

"The idea" his wife informed him "was to get away from city living, not to delve suddenly into farming."

"Yeah" he grinned, abashed. "I can't believe it's finally happened. A place in the country. No more traffic streaming through my dream. No more bright lights haunting the bedroom every night. No more noise. Just peace and quiet."

"Don't you think we'd better build a house, before we move in?" his wife asked.

Driving back to town, they discussed the house, a good substantial main building that would grow, as they could afford additions.

"And great big windows. Lots of them. We won't have to worry about what the neighbors see," he laughed. "We won't have any. Let's not even buy any curtains."

"The next thing I know, you'll decide to just pitch a tent," Louise Hodges said. "Remember, we are still civilized people."

"Say—it means being civilized to me, for the first time, really civilized. To live a private life. Do you know, Lou, these past couple of months I've had to control a strong urge to take a sling shot to every light in the city? That darned sign flashing on top of the restaurant—right in our window! I used to wake up thinking I was back in the war zone, with incendiary bombs bursting all around me."

"Yes, Darling," she replied softly. "I know, and it is wonderful. We've worked long and hard for this. I'm glad you're so enthused. I don't feel so silly about being all excited myself."

He put one arm around her shoulder and hugged her as he drove along.

"Well," he said, "it won't be long now."

Every evening they went to watch the house grow. Lou mentally planted flower beds around it, and Tim grew the best watermelons in the country. Now and then, they lingered until it grew completely dark, to watch the stars appear and wink at them.

"See how bright they are with no competition?" Tim asked.

"As though they share a secret joke with us, "Lou replied. "They're saying, "See, we were right here all the time."

When the house was completed, they could hardly contain themselves. The 10 acres shrunk a little, with the building taking its space, but there was still more land around the house than they had ever hoped to own. The highway stretched conveniently near the front of the property, and traffic was light. Behind the house was an inviting pond, strewn with water lillies.

"We'll have a picnic table there," Lou pointed out "and invite our harassed city friends out on Sunday. They'll never believe the solitude."

"They'll no doubt decide to move in," Tim said.

Excitement ran rampant the day before they were to move in. They measured rooms and planned arrangement of furniture. Finally, Tim left Lou to her imaginary decorating and went to survey once again the spacious front lawn.

He walked across the yard toward the highway. As he reached the highway, he saw the figure of a man on the land directly opposite his. The man was driving stakes into the ground.

"Helloooo there" Tim called, in a neighborly fashion.

The man stopped his work and waved back. Then he walked across the highway to where Tim stood.

"That your place?", the man questioned, pointing to Tim's house.

"Yeah" Tim replied. "We start moving in tomorrow. It's really a dream come true. Wonderful out here, isn't it?"

"I'll say," said the man, "I've worked all my life for this."

"Know exactly what you mean," Tim grinned. "Can't remember when I didn't dream of a home in the country."

"Same with me. Only mine was a tourist court. I've always wanted a fine tourist court. Whole family can work at it, yet be at home, too. And I've got it. Guess I shouldn't brag, but it's going to be a dilly. You should see the plans. Only court in this section, too. Should do good business. They won't MISS us, at any rate. Wait 'til you see our neons. We'll be lit up like a Xmas tree. Be a big expense, but worth it. Nobody ever stops if you hide yourself in the dark. You know," he raised his voice in delight, "we figured it out—and we'll be seen for a whole mile. No sir, they won't miss us. Just think of it, Buddy! You'll be able to see the lights for a whole mile, in ALL directions!"

GETTING AN EDUCATION

If there is one thing that should impress the car owner with what happens to a battery that is not regularly filled with water, it is a glance around a shop bench on which worn-out batteries are in various stages of disassembly, declares the National Automobile Club. If every motorist could take in such an impressive view, he would remember that water and attention for the battery are frequent needs.

(This column brings you news of men in the armed service. In order that it may cover the activities of all Daly City area men, drop into The Record office, 3317 San Jose Ave., or call PLaza 5-4321.)

Undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., is Robert B. Schindler, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Schindler of 196 Santa Barbara ave., Daly City, Calif.

This initial training includes instruction in such fields as seamanship, fire-fighting, gunnery, signaling, and other courses designed to make the recruit well-versed in every phase of Navy life.

Upon completion of their 11-week training period at the training center, graduates are assigned to duty stations with the Fleet or at Navy shore stations, or are sent to service schools for advanced technical training.

Serving aboard the auxiliary motor minesweeper USS Heron in the Far East is Albert J. Francesconi, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio J. Francesconi of 1139 Brunswick street, Daly City.

Francesconi entered the Naval service October 6, 1950.

Before entering the Navy, he was graduated from Jefferson Union high school.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District of San Mateo County, State of California, will receive bids for the erection, construction and completion of the additions to the Garden Village Elementary School upon public school property located at Garden Lane, Garden Village, Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, including all necessary labor, materials, services, transportation, etc. Each bid or proposal to be in accordance with plans, drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for said School district, at the office in the existing Administration Building, 344 Santa Barbara Ave., Daly City, San Mateo County, California, where they can be examined and with Mario Ciampi, architect, 425 Bush St., San Francisco, California, and copies of same may be obtained from said architect at 425 Bush St., City and County of San Francisco, State of California, upon deposit of twenty dollars ($20.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids have been opened.

Bidders are hereby further notified that pursuant to the Statutes of State of California or local laws thereto applicable, it shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the general prevailing hourly wage rate and the rate per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract awarded to the successful bidder. All bidders are hereby further notified that they must ascertain from the proper authorities the said wage rates before submitting their bid.

Bidders shall set forth in the bid the name and location of the mill shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of said Superintendent or at the office of said Architect at the addresses hereinabove set forth; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than 10% of the amount of the bid and made payable to the order of the said Jefferson Elementary School District, shall be sealed and filed with the said Superintendent of Schools at his office on or before 7:00 p.m. Friday, January 25, 1952, of the said day, and will be opened and publicly read aloud on Friday, January 25, 1952, at or about 7:00 p.m. of that day in the office of said Superintendent.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the said Board of Trustees.

Successful bidders on labor and material contract work will be required to furnish, in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price a Labor and Material Bond, and a Faithful Performance Bond in the amount of one Hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price; said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees.

The board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in a bid, or to award a contract on the basis of the proposal which serves the best interest of the School District.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Dated at Daly City, California, the 2nd of January, 1952.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 251 OF THE CITY OF DALY CITY AND PROVIDING FOR A METHOD OF FIXING TAXICAB RATES

The City Council of the City of Daly City does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Subsection (G) "Rates" of Section 13 of Ordinance No. 251 of the City of Daly City, California, adopted the 14th day of January, 1946, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Subsection (G) "Rates":

1. Before providing for any rates to be charged for trips within the City of Daly City, the City Council shall pass and publish a resolution which shall include:

(a) A declaration of its intention to set or change rates.

(b) The proposed rates to be charged.

(c) The time and place for hearing all persons interested in the proposed rates to be charged. The time shall not be less than ten days after the passage of the resolution.

SECTION 2. The resolution shall be published in the Daly City Record at least five (5) days prior to the hearing.

SECTION 3. On the day fixed for the hearing, the City Council shall hear the evidence offered by persons interested. If it finds from all the evidence that rates should be set or changed, it shall make its order, by resolution, fixing or changing rates.

SECTION 4. Upon a resolution fixing or changing rates having been passed, a certified copy of such resolution shall be personally served on all owners of taxicab companies within the City of Daly City, as defined by Section 1 of ordinance No. 251.

SECTION 5. It shall be unlawful except for trips to or from points outside Daly City where the charge is fixed on a trip basis, for the owner or driver of any taxicab, as defined in Section 1 of ordinance No. 251, to fix or charge or collect a rate in excess of those set by the City Council by resolution.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall be published once in the Daly City Record, a newspaper published weekly in said City of Daly City, California, and hereby designated for that purpose, and shall take effect and be in force at the expiration of thirty (30) days from and after its passage.

Miss Schreiber, Cereghino To Wed

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Janet Schreiber to Ed Cereghino, sensational young baseball star, was made this week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Dean Schreiber of 33 Knowles avenue.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Schreiber and Cereghino met while attending Jefferson high school and have been going together for some three years. They became formally engaged on Christmas eve when Cereghino gifted his bride-elect with a beautiful diamond ring.

Cereghino is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cereghino of 412 Willits street.

Miss Schreiber is attending Jefferson Union high school from which school she graduates in June.

Production progress is now under way in the Daly City Volunteer Red Cross organization under the direction of Mrs. Horace Fellows, town chairman. An urgent appeal was made by the Red Cross for more sewing machines. The organization of 38 ladies who have volunteered for duty to date are working with five sewing machines. Mrs. Fellows expressed a desire for more machines in order to speed up production.

"Curious Savage" Coming To S.M.J.C.

Comedy Slated For January 10 to 12

The evenings of January 10, 11, and 12 the San Mateo Junior College Players Club will stage the annual Fall term play, which this year is "The Curious Savage" by John Patrick.

The comedy deals with the trials and tribulations of a Mrs. Savage, who is "curious" in a most charming way. The play deals with the troubles that arise when her relatives attempt to gain control of her fortune.

Fully 75 junior college students drawn from the entire county will assist in one way or another in staging the play. Some are in the cast, some are making scenery, and others are dealing with properties, tickets, costumes, and publicity. The play will be given in the college auditorium in San Mateo with Robert Brauns, well known for his work in the Peninsula Little Theatre, as director.

January Declared March Of Dimes Drive Month

Governor Opens The 1952 Campaign

January, 1952, became "March of Dimes Month" today by act of the official state proclamation signed by Governor Earl Warren at the Sacramento capitol.

The proclamation was one of "personal import" to the governor, who experienced the anxieties of polio directly, when his youngest daughter, Nina, "Honeybear," was stricken last year. The proclamation, therefore, was the act of a governor, of a state March of Dimes chairman and of a deeply interested citizen.

In the proclamation, the governor proclaimed Wednesday, January 2, the opening day of the March of Dimes campaign in the state, and urged that all Californians contribute "their dimes and their dollars" and make the appeal and outstanding success.

Medical Care

The proclamation stated, "The March of Dimes makes it possible for every infantile paralysis patient in the nation to obtain the best available medical care. . . In the last four years the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has spent $79,000,000 of March of Dimes funds in direct payments for care of patients."

"In addition," the proclamation continued, "March of Dimes contributions help to finance research programs which have made possible great progress in the treatment of infantile paralysis and which can be the means of eventually eradicating this terrible disease from our homes."

Importance

"It is of the utmost importance that Californians contribute generously, for our state has had in 1951 its second worst year in the number of infantile paralysis cases. California has exceeded 3,000 cases, an increase of more than 1,000 over the preceding year. Because of this heavy load, it has been necessary of the National Foundation to advance over $1,000,000 to California chapters to augment local funds being spent for care of polio pateints."

Governor Warren was recently appointed state chairman for the 1952 March of Dimes, and has been an active volunteer since the polio-fighting organization was formed in 1938.

Colma Parent-Teacher Group Hosts Yuletide Parties

Over 600 children in the R. S. Thornton and Jefferson Elementary schools enjoyed the recent Christmas parties held in the two schools by the Colma PTA on December 20 and 21. Each child received a candy cane from Santa Claus and was served ice cream and homemade cookies by the room-mothers.

Those assisting the president, Mrs. John C. Wiesner, at the R. S. Thornton School were the Mesdames L. Berntsen, E. A. Bobbitt, M. M. Brown, F. Carey, M. L. Carr, Jack Clayton, R. L. Cox, J. D. Doyle, J. Fanucchi, R. W. Foster, C. M. Grey, P. Grosz, W. H. Kahle, P. Kavenagh, H. Lee, A. Lew, Y. Mjehorich, A. R. Montgomery, J. J. Offenbach, H. Schaffer, P. L. Swainston, S. Vickers, S. Martinelli, E. R. Martin, A. Mori, C. Newman, L. B. Nevile, G. Pizzi, A. Reeves, C. Samson, E. J. Snow, F. R. Staten, A. A. Teeter, A. Tuvo, and W. R. Whalen.

The president, Mrs. John C. Wiesner, wishes to thank the teachers and parents, and anyone else who helped in any way to make these two parties so successful. Special thanks must go to Mr. Melford Battye who gave of his time so unstintingly to bring the true Christmas spirit to both parties. His efforts were particularly enjoyed by all the children present.

The Colma PTA will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, January 8, 1952, at 1:30 p.m. at the Colma Community Center, Dunk street, off Washington, Colma. The monthly theme is "Good Health Equals Good Living," with "Health, A Precious Commodity," as the topic. Miss Antoinette Gattuccio, school nurse, will be the discussion leader. If you have any health questions about your children or families, please bring them to the meeting. All are invited.

New Western Band Rides Saddle Here

Daly City's latest challenge to the musical world is the Gay-Corders . . . a six piece western band guaranteed to make you want to dance.

At least that is the contention of Joseph Lewkowitz, manager of the melodious six. And he says his claim will be justified if you attend a dance Saturday evening, January 12 at which his boys are playing. The dance is slated for Lovchen Garden, Colma.

All the band's members are from Daly City, and local Eagles will remember them as first getting started in the hall at 3346 San Jose avenue. At that time they called themselves by another name, but the music was just as sweet, Lewkowitz says.

GOOD NEWS FOR MEN

There Are Now Three Extra Gals For Every 100 Men In California

Paul Scharrenberg, director of Industrial Relations, presented the following report on the advance of California women, especially wage earners:

At one time California had considerably more men than women. In 1890 there were only 73 women for every 100 men. By 1910 this situation had improved somewhat. In that year there were 80 women for every 100 men. By 1920 the ratio had increased 89 to 100. In 1940 there were 96 to 100.

Now the situation has been reversed and for the first time we have more women in the California population than men. At present, there are 103 women for every 100 men.

More women were employed in California during 1950 than at any time in the entire history of the State. In October 1951 an all-time high of 1,464,000 women was reached. This figure includes self-employed persons as well as wage and salary workers and was about 2¼ times the April 1940 female work force of 656,000.

It is particularly significant that the number of employed women in California increased 120 per cent since 1940 compared with a population increase of around 60 per cent.

Sports, gardening, wood-working and reading are the hobbies of an individual who identifies himself as "G.F." Furthermore his favorite movies are adventure films; he enjoys meeting new persons; the weather does not effect his moods and he is annoyed when his plans are upset.

From his answers to the personality questionnaire, "G.F." is a well balanced and normal individual. His range of hobbies from sports to reading tends to bear out this conclusion. Also the replies to the other questions show him to be possessed of these qualities.

* * *

Musicals are the favorite movies of the person who submitted a personality questionnaire with the initials, "B.D." He is upset when his plans do not work out; he enjoys meeting new people; the weather sometimes effects his moods and his hobbies are hunting, fishing and cars.

"B.D." is also a well balanced and normal individual although his interests are not as varied as those of "G.F." Then, too, he has a slight tendency toward moodiness.

Would you like to have a description of your personality? If so, all you have to do is to fill out the accompanying questionnaire and mail it to The Record, 3317 San Jose avenue. Then watch this column for your personality analysis. This service is free and persons need not sign their names. However, it is advisable that you give either identifying initials or a nickname.

Also persons with problems are invited to submit them to Dorothy Davis who will continue to analyze them in this column. This service, too, is free of charge.

DEN JOTTINGS
By Louise McDonald

Have you ever walked across the top of one of the nation's largest dams? Up until last Saturday afternoon, we had never even seen a dam, and then to see the view on both sides from the top of one was certainly inspiring and wonderful.

We're talking about Shasta Dam. On the one side of it is the enormous and impressive lake cut into by mountain ridges and on the other, far down in the valley, the large power plant and the river. The rock all up and down the sides of this valley is reddish in color and its formation gives evidence of the tremendous volcanic activity which took place in this part of northern California millions of years ago.

Funny thing, we got so bored reading about man's inventiveness in harnessing the forces of nature, etc., etc., etc., that all the wordage about Shasta Dam always left us cold.

However, after seeing it, the entire project takes on meaning. It is no longer a column of statistics and a philosophical essay. It is an outstanding engineering fete combined with beautiful scenery of valley, river, lake and mountain. A visit to Shasta Dam is one that you will always treasure in your memory.

Red Cross Meet Slated January 15

Informal Dinner To Be Given

Again this year the Peninsula Golf and Country Club will be the locale for the annual meeting of the San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross, on Tuesday, January 15.

The public is invited to attend an informal dinner at the Club, at 6:30 p.m. preceding the meeting.

Reservations must be made ahead through the Red Cross, DI. 3-4561. Those who do not come for dinner are invited to attend the meeting starting at 8 p.m. The committee in charge promises an entertaining program.

Working on arrangements are Richard E. Meade, chairman, assisted by Mervyn Hitchcock, L. H. Hanson, Norman Corlett, Miss Elizabeth Mack and Mrs. Barney Bristow. Dan Minto, Chapter Chairman, will welcome the guests. The nominating committee, Judge Murray Draper, chairman, John Broderick, James T. Healey, Herbert M. Schaur, Jr., and Steb C. Teal will present names of persons to be elected to the Board of Directors.

There will be no Service reports as these are to be presented in the Annual Report, a copy of which will be given to each guest. Mr. Meade urges early reservations as the Red Cross annual meeting has increased in popularity each year since it has been held in the Club.

The Family Year

NINETEEN FIFTY-TWO ought to be America's family year. Inasmuch as the whole world is in an uproar, and half of its occupants suffering from one disaster or another, this would be a good time to pull ourselves together domestically, and make every hour count in developing new securities and new happiness right in the family circle.

For no changes in wars, politics, treaties, loans, international agreements can possibly be as important as just that—what you and I do in our homes. The very base of civilization is set in these eight-and nine-room homes of ours, these five and six-room flats. That's where the great reformation of the world is going to start. And it is only when we make home perfect that the change will begin. Ten changed family groups in your town would make a dent in world misery; a hundred in your state would save thousands of divorces and despairs, and if one million women began today to make 1952 the happiest year their own loved ones ever had known the whole of the tired old world would know it.

Start with New Year

So start with this New Year, and use just the materials you have at hand, and see where you get.

Start with love, of course. Love fulfills the law. If you are the man of the house scatter a little affection about. Amaze your children into the whispered comment:

". . . family year . . ."

"What's happened to Dad! He's awfully nice this morning."

Talk confidence and safety to the children. What you and their mother say is making little records on their minds and souls, scratches of fear and dislike and discouragement that won't ever be effaced. Change all that by telling them that nothing bad can happen as long as they love each other. Your long-suffering wife may faint away at this sudden change in your attitude, but you'll have to risk that. Remind them that if you have less money someday—well, you'll move to that battered old farm Joe Doakes has been trying to sell you, and Mommy and Maureen can make doughnuts for the market, and Jim and Bob here can raise cocker pups. Cockers sell well, these days.

You'll Be Surprised

You may be surprised and somewhat daunted to discover that of all things that is exactly what your supposedly pampered children would like.

If you happen to be the young daughter of the house, reading this, then contribute your own sensational reforms to the general movement. Suddenly grow up. Grow up to realize that it is love, and not just fussiness and bossiness, that is worrying Mother and Dad about you. That with the wrong friends, drinks, cars, parties, night clubs, you can throw away in your teens what all your later years can't replace, and that they know it and you don't. A reckless love-affair now, a hasty, silly marriage, isn't just a matter of making some boy promise he'll never tell anyone, or rushing into a young divorce. No, it's doing something to you, body and spirit, that has a way of recalling itself all your life long.

But it's on you, the wife and mother, that the real burden of this family year falls. Begin by being always cheerful, always confident. On the outside, anyway. Puzzle them all into wondering what delightful thing has happened to Mother. Why, she's always smiling. She acts as if she had some awfully pleasant secret deep in her heart. She walked to the door with Daddy, and, brushed something off his coat—she hasn't done that for ever so long! And she said, "Take care of yourself now, we value you," and did you see Dad come back up the steps and kiss her again?

Let Maureen have a few friends in for pencil games and cookies Saturday nights.

Have Dan's mother and sisters over for a Sunday dinner, and merely laugh good-naturedly when they tell you that it was all your fault that there was a breach in the family.

To build a family takes more than people. It takes someone at the head who will keep a high heart against all the little pricks of the day, take an occasional humiliation, admit an occasional mistake, bear with unappreciation sometimes and with the tiredness and unreason of everyone else most of the time.
